Dear Mrs. Marti,

The review committee met in the conference room at Truman this morning regarding a book challenge. This committee recommends that the book In My Mothers House by Patricia Pollacco be retained in Truman's library. There is a restriction on this book per parent request. There will be a note written in the Follett System that informs us that a certain child may not check this book out because of a parent request.

The committee felt that this book would be a worthy book to have in the library as it has a validating theme of diverse backgrounds. Also, the book lets children know that there are other types of families in the world, not just the traditional family units.

1. Did you read or view the entire book or material? ☒ Yes ☐ No
If not, what parts did you read or view? Please be specific--cite page numbers.

2. What are your specific objections to the educational use of this material?

I believe the topic of homosexuality is better left to the parents. I didn't find anything I would consider educational for my 8 year old daughter in this book. To me toleration could be taught using a different subject base.

3. What would you like your library/school to do about this work?

☒ Do not assign/lend it to my child: Sydney Brandt

☒ Return it to the staff selection committee/department for re-evaluation.

☒ Other, please explain: If it must be made available, it should be to much older children along with a note to the parent.
